DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "needle-punched" recited in claims 7 and 14 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Art Unit: 3752

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-5, 8-12, 15, 17, 21, 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Denen et al. (6,296,196).

Denen discloses an emanator comprising: a first material 32; and a second material 32 adjacent the first material (see column 6, line 16 for nylon and polypropylene).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 6, 9, 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harkenrider et al. (2,943,378) in view of Denen et al. (6,296,196).

Harkenrider discloses an emanator comprising a first material 26 and second material 28. Harkenrider does not disclose nylon and polypropylene. Denen discloses nylon and polypropylene in column 6, line 16. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have used nylon and polypropylene in the device of Harkenrider as taught by Denen for "good capillary action" (Denen, column 6, line 9).

Art Unit: 3752

6. Claims 1, 7, 9, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harkenrider et al. (2,943,378) in view of Clifford (4,653,295).

Harkenrider discloses an emanator comprising a first material 26 and second material 28. Harkenrider does laminating material 26 and 28 but does not disclose needle punch. Clifford discloses, in column 14, lines 18-23, various methods of producing textile materials such as woven, nonwoven, knitted, tufted, or needle punched. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have needle punched the two materials of Harkenrider as taught by Clifford to ease manufacturing by utilizing existing laminating methods.
